Your Teeth

Office hours 8 to 12, 1 to 5:30, 7 to 9:00. Sundays 9 to 2. Special appointments can be made for evenings and Sundays. The care of the teeth is demanded of you by nature and in nine cases out of ten bad teeth play an important part in the suffering of the entire body, headache, nervous stomach, etc. There is no guess work in our methods. We will give you a straight, honest opinion about your teeth. We save them if there is any method known to modern Dentistry and if not, we advise extraction. Do not have teeth treated month after month, as this will cause disease in the bony structure around the root. Any tooth should yield to treatment in from three to four visits to a dentist if it is worth treating at all. Each case presented to us is given its own individual treatment. No guess work, and no experimenting. We extract teeth as nearly painless as is possible. All methods are entirely up-to-date. Our best recommendation is our satisfied patients. Be sure you are in our office and leave it to us for fair treatment.

SOIL SURVEY

Work in West Virginia to Be
Begun in Three More
Counties.

The Bureau of Soils, in co-operation with the West Virginia Geological Survey, will soon begin a soil survey of the Boone-Logan-Mingo area, West Virginia, covering approximately 1,360 square miles. The survey will be made for the purpose of determining the different types of soil in the area and what crops they are best adapted to. The survey will be finished in the fall, when the report will be prepared and published later, together with a soil map in colors, showing the locations and extent of the different types of soil, farm houses, churches, schools, railroads, public roads, and streams in the area.

The field work of the soil survey of Kanawha county will also be resumed this spring, and will be completed at an early date.

The Bureau of Soils has made soil surveys of Brooke, Cabell, Calhoun, Doddridge, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Lincoln, Marion, Marshall, Mason, Monongalia, Ohio, Pleasants, Preston, Putnam, Ritchie, Roane, Taylor, Tyler, Upshur, Wayne, Wetzel, Wirt and Wood counties, W. Va., and a partial survey of Jefferson county.

Clogs.

Clogs, against which the Lancashire mill girls are rebellious, were at one time worn by women of all classes. The more refined variety of the clog had a thin wooden sole, which was cut transversely in two pieces, attached to each other by a hinge. Dainty brass and polished leather, appropriate names gave a touch to the article. Anne Bracegirdle, the most beautiful actress of her day, was a wearer of clogs. Horace Walpole relates in one of his letters that "Mrs. Bracegirdle breakfasted with me this morning. As she went out and wanted her clogs she turned to me and said, 'I remember at the playhouse they used to call for Mrs. Oldfield's chair. Mrs. Barry's clogs and Mrs. Bracegirdle's pattens.'" —London Spectator
